

PROPOSED LIGHT AND POWER PLANT FOR OGDEN CITY

Figure it out for yourself, Mr. Consumer, and then debate whether the plan that is being well spoken of by many of Ogden's citizens and prominent officials, to construct a municipal power and light plant is not the way out of difficulties caused by excessive rates for electric light.

There will come before the city commissioners, probably on Monday night next, a resolution urging the commission to empower the city engineer to make a survey and estimate of the cost of such a plant as Ogden needs. At the present time the legal and engineering features of the situation are under consideration and, if the citizens of Ogden who have learned what can be done by a people all pulling together in such a matter of the Liberty loan will only apply that knowledge to their local needs there is no doubt that a plant costing half a million can be subscribed for and erected as the property of the city for the use and convenience of its citizens.

This little sum in arithmetic... What is the interest on half a million dollars at five per cent per annum? It is $25,000. Well, at the present time, according to those who know, the city is paying $26,000 to the Utah Power and Light company for street lighting alone.

POULTRY SHOW TO BE HELD IN OGDEN IN JANUARY

The official poultry association show, in Ogden January 12 to 18 inclusive, gives promise of being one of the most attractive of its kind ever held in the state.

James A. Tucker, an authority of national fame, will act as official judge and the list of prizes to be awarded will make competition unusually keen in the matter of entries.

This will be the eighth annual exhibit of the Weber County Poultry association, which has been greatly aided in its progress by the hearty cooperation of the Weber club, Ogden business men and the Weber county board of commissioners.

Breeders of poultry and farm yard pets from northwestern states as well as California have been attracted by this show, which will not only have the largest entry but the finest assembly of the very best birds in the west.

BRIG.-GEN. R.W. YOUNG AND STAFF LAND IN NEW YORK

The artillerymen from the 65th brigade, which arrived in New York today aboard the Mercury, were accompanied by their commander, Brigadier General Richard W. Young of Salt Lake City, who said his outfit had just completed training preparatory to starting for the front when the armistice was signed.

Among the wounded was Private Earl House of Caldwell, Mont., who exhibits the remnants of a Bible which he declared saved his life after he went "over the top" early in November. When a German sniper sent a bullet toward his heart the book deflected its course and only a flesh wound resulted. While lying in "No Man's Land" awaiting the stretcher-bearers, House had the satisfaction of seeing his "buddy" bring down the sniper.

Troops arriving included the 10th field artillery, the 102nd, 103rd, 104th and 105th casual companies, first marine aviation corps, headquarters company 116th field artillery and 128th detached officers and non-commissioned officers of the 38th (cyclist division).

Major-General H. C. Hodges, returning for home assignment; Brigadier-General Julian A. Penn, who commanded the 38th division and Major-General Winters of the medical corps, were aboard the Mercury. Most of the troops will remain here over Christmas.

RETURNING BOYS TO SIGN "WELCOME HOME" CARDS

All Weber county army and navy men returning from service, should not fail to sign "Welcome Home" card at the canteen located at the Union station.

Assistant Commander Mrs. Ralph Roberts of the canteen has caused a large banner to be displayed on the platform at the station, in full view of everyone who enters, which urges some coming boys to register at the canteen.

The forty boys who have already complied with this request are Lieutenant Mark Brown; Lafayette Gibby; Glen Tout; James Browning; Sergeant Henry W. Lindsay; Raymond Wright; Blaine McFarlane; Harry W. Seaman; Richard K. Pierce; Harry A. Nielson; Charles Watkins; John Klenke; Sergeant Arthur Burch; Corporal Edwin Randall; Ephraim Olson; Harmon Meissner; Corporal Hayden Sandland; Instructor Asael Ipson; Instructor William J. Royle; Second Lieutenant Ned Menzies; John A. Law-
